

School Board Names Walkertown School

OCTOBER 13, 2010 – The Winston-Salem/Forsyth County Board of Education unanimously chose names for two new schools at its meeting last night.

The new middle-high school in Walkertown will be named

Walkertown Middle-High School, and the new elementary school in Clemmons will be named W. Frank Morgan Elementary School, after a former principal of Clemmons High School. Both schools are scheduled to open in August 2011.
